Score a Great Deal

SwapMeSports.com is a new online community founded by Connecticut mom Tara Griggs. Members can buy, sell, donate, and trade used sporting goods for free on the searchable, location-specific website, which allows parents to save money by eliminating shipping fees. The site also has a donation option that lets users give their equipment to struggling schools and sports programs in their neighborhoods. For more information, visit www.swapmesports.com.
